

K-Love is a great radio station that provides positive messages in the music that it plays. As a mother of young children, it is important to me that I have this type of musical option for my children to listen to.

K-Love is one of the few radio stations available with this type of format. We just recently lost another similar station, and I know of many people who are very disappointed to see this station go. Luckily, we still have K-Love available to us, and can still listen to the positive music and messages through this station.

I believe that the service that K-Love is providing is in the public interest because they are offering a listening alternative to the head-banging, rapping, trash music that is out there. They offer positive music and messages that our children need to hear, instead of the constant barrage of negative messages they receive from other radio station formats and television.

Please do not let K-Love be replaced in my community.
